

DONOR GROUPS: MOBILIZING CHANGE

United Way of North Central New Mexico is mobilizing change through five donor groups. These active leaders ensure UWNCNM meets its mission by fund raising, networking, and contributing to better outcomes for young people, women, survivors of interpersonal violence, and the Hispanic community.

Membership in a donor group provides participants with opportunities to improve lives through hands-on service projects, meeting and networking with like-minded community members and business leaders, and much more.

- Last year, these groups gathered for a variety of inspiring events, including a YLS fundraiser for the Finish Line Fund, a WU mural project for Saranam, a GG playground construction project for Valencia Shelter Services, RU volunteering with Kitchen Angels in Santa Fe and Ronald McDonald House in Albuquerque, and several deeply meaningful HPS Leadership Speaker Series breakfasts.
- To learn more about each group and how to join, visit UWNCNM's website, or contact Donor Groups Manager Stephanie Urban at stephanie.urban@uwnccnm.org

